STUDEBAKER SHOP IS SEEN BY HISTORIANS

Touring members of the Adams County Historical Society Tuesday evening visited 214-year-old Great Conewago Presbyterian Church, the only relic of the Studebaker family in Adams County and the recently restored Round Hill graveyard in northeastern Adams County.

The historians discussed possible means of preserving or restoring the old Studebaker blacksmith shop, with its chinked log sidewalls near collapse and then talked over means of keeping up the Round Hill cemetery where few burials have occurred in the last century.

The group went first to Great Conewago Presbyterian Church at Hunterstown and inspected the old stone church, built in 1787 by a congregation that dates back to 1740 or beyond. The congregation celebrated its bi-centennial in 1940, the same year the Gettysburg Presbyterian Church also celebrated its 200th anniversary.

Once linked with Upper Marsh Creek (now the Gettysburg) Presbyterian Church and later with the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian, the church has been served with stated supplies assigned by Carlisle Presbytery since 1936.

Chapel Built In 1887
In its 100th anniversary year, 1887, the church erected its Sunday School chapel from bricks from the old Hunterstown Academy. The

COMMENCEMENT AT MOUNT HELD THIS AFTERNOON

Speaking to the graduates at the 146th annual commencement of Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, this afternoon, Dr. Charles R. Goldsborough, prominent Baltimore physician, called on the graduates to "fight for principle, for the honor and dignity of man, rather than for just the material things of this world."

Dr. Goldsborough pointed out that individuals of courage and forthrightness must "take sides and make decisions. There is a special place in hell," he said, "for those who confronted with a real moral crisis, insist on remaining neutral. Each of you should recognize your duty and be always available when called to take an active part in any civic or religious movement which has for its purpose to resist any attempt to subvert freedom of education or freedom of government."

"False Philosophies"

"That there is chaos in the world today is nothing new. It stems from man's earliest attempt to deny God's omnipotence. With this inception in intellectual pride, there have come down through the ages, in one form or another, false philosophies, religious heresies and schisms, totalitarian ideologies, the stripping of personality from men by legal or social devices, the teaching that all authority in society is in the will of man alone. Resulting from these abuses of man's free will, the world has witnessed the use and fall of vast empires, of powerful nations, yet the sin of pride remains unabated. And so you men also are confronted with chaos today, chief-

Dr. Oppenheimer Asks AEC For Quick Action On Ruling Barring Him From Atomic Secrets

By WARREN ROGERS JR.
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission had before it today Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer's plea for quick action on a special board's split recommendation to bar him from the atomic secrets he helped unfold.

The three-man security board set up by the commission found, after six weeks of secret hearings and deliberation, that the 50-year-old "Oppy" is a "loyal citizen"—but too much of a security risk to get back the cleared-for-secrets status he lost last Dec. 23.

As disclosed yesterday by Oppenheimer's attorneys, the special board ruled 2-1 that the noted physicist and atomic pioneer had contributed to delaying a "concerted" start on hydrogen bomb development and had associated with Communists for years.

Minority Opinion

In a minority opinion, Dr. Ward V. Evans, chemistry professor at Loyola University of Chicago, said of Oppenheimer:

"He did not hinder development of the H-bomb and there is absolutely nothing in the testimony to

GUILE LEFEVER NAMED HEAD OF RECREATION BD.

Guile W. Lefever, Gettysburg High School principal, was elected president of the Board of Directors of the Gettysburg Recreation Association Tuesday evening at an organization meeting in the Engine House. Lefever succeeds E. Donald Scott.

Other officers appointed at the initial 1954 meeting of the new board were: Vernon H. Clapper, vice president; Mahlon P. Hartzell, secretary; George D. March, treasurer. Both Hartzell and March were reelected.

Recreation Director Luther I. Sachs Jr. disclosed that during recent school registrations for the summer season, a total of 719 youths—most of them between the ages of 6 and 15—signified intentions of participating in the association's vacation recreation program.

He said those not yet signed can do so during the first week of the recreation season, starting June 14.

Need Assistants

At the conclusion of an outline of the recreation staff's projected summer program, Sachs noted that because of the accent on the activities of older youths the younger set was faced with inadequate supervision of its play program. He suggested the addition of extra, part-time assistants to the staff to direct the younger play activity "especially in the morning and evening hours."

The directors voted to contact various women's organizations in the attempt to recruit the extra instructors.

The association announced its intention to sponsor several Family Day picnics and band concerts during the summer and Secretary Hartzell made a special plea that picnicers and visitors to the Recreation Field area place trash in the waste receptacles to lessen the burden on association employees.

Purchase Equipment

Following Sachs' recommendations, the directors voted to purchase a hand pump, six archery targets, and a dozen hardballs. It was noted that sand for the children's boxes has already been ordered. Left for future action was the purchase of tennis balls and several bales of straw for the archery targets.

The directors also voted to purchase a rotary lawn mower; decided to install a telephone in the recreation building and an extension within the concession stand at the softball field, and approved the payment of bills totaling $61.14. Next meeting of the board will be held July 13.

GIVES SENIORS APPRAISAL OF THEIR FUTURE

High school seniors today are entering a labor market that is looking for men, but the situation may change within a few years, Charles R. Wolfe, registrar of Gettysburg College, told the graduating class of New Oxford High School at commencement exercises Tuesday night.

At the same time he prophesied that the "man who is willing to work and learn" can "secure a more wonderful future than that open to the average man of today."

"Today four men are doing the work of five to provide the services and materials needed by the nation," the college registrar said. "With the increase of population brought about by the growth of those youngsters now crowding the elementary schools, that ratio will become, within a few years, five to five. Within possibly 20 years, if the population growth continues and technological development keeps pace, there will be six men to do the work five men can do."

A Look At The Future

"This has a great meaning to you today. It means that as of the moment jobs should be fairly easy to find. It means that within a few years it will become more difficult to find good positions and that within a few more years, the problem will become even more acute."

"It means that you today can catch up with the man who began work five years ago. It also means that the graduates five years hence will be crowding on your heels in the employment picture."

"Our world today is one calling for more and more specialization. The workman of tomorrow must be a technician with a high degree of

BANK BOOK IN FLOWER BED IS CRIME SOLVER

John S. Nusbaum, Linwood, Md., made a major error when he dropped his bank book while "borrowing" 18 hyacinth plants, state police said today.

As police told the story, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Reinman, Littlestown R. 1, received a rude shock April 16, Good Friday, when they awoke, looked at the flower garden beside their home along the Littlestown-Taneytown Rd. and discovered that someone had removed 18 full blooming hyacinth plants from the garden.

As they searched the garden, the couple found a bank book issued by the "Uniontown Bank Branch, Md." to "John S. Nusbaum."

Given To Police

They turned the book over to police while reporting the loss.

Police found that Nusbaum, aged 24, resided at Linwood, Md., near Uniontown.

Nusbaum, police said, told them he knew nothing of the hyacinths. His bank book, if it was found near Littlestown must have been stolen, police said he claimed.

A visit to the home of Francis Sauter in Linwood, where Nusbaum boards, disclosed approximately 18 hyacinth plants that appeared to have been freshly planted.

Police kept checking on occasion just to see whether Nusbaum wished to change his story.

Wanted Them For Gift

Finally the Maryland man told police that he had taken the flowers. He said that while employed at York on a 4 p.m. to midnight shift, he had passed the Reinman home daily. Having no money and wanting to make a gift to the Sauters, Nusbaum decided to "lift" the flowers at the Reinman home, police said he told them.

On the morning of April 16, when he and Mr. Sauter arrived from York at Linwood about 2 o'clock Nusbaum asked Mr. Sauter if he could borrow Sauter's car to visit his parents. Sauter agreed and Nusbaum set off on the trip that wound up in the Reinman garden, police said.

Nusbaum pleaded guilty to a larceny charge brought by Reinman before Justice of the Peace F. Loy Lindaman in Littlestown. He paid $25 to Mr. Reinman for the plants and paid $15 and costs on the charge.

SEEK DAMAGES IN TRUCK DEATH

An amended complaint seeking to recover personal and property damages in the death of Harry M. Bacon was filed with the prothonotary Tuesday by the widow, Ruby C. Bacon, Savannah, Ga., and Clayton P. Bacon against Wesley A. Hoisington, Highland Park, Mich., and the Interstate Motor Freight System, Grand Rapids, Mich.

The trespass action stems from an accident, Nov. 6, 1952, in which Harry M. Bacon died of injuries following a collision at the York Springs intersection.

It is claimed that Hoisington, an employee of the Motor Freight System, drove a tractor-trailer into a tractor-trailer operated by the deceased, causing his immediate death.

"MY HEART SPEAKS"

When I write of love and friendship . . . or on problems of the heart . . . I am open to discussion . . . and my work is torn apart . . . some folks say my written pictures . . . give this life a golden hue . . . and many things I write about . . . are really far from true . . . in defense of what I record . . . I have only this to say . . . in this world of strife and struggle . . . someone must lighten the way . . . someone has to paint a picture . . . that is wonderful to see . . . though I've known of many heartaches . . . guess that someone must be me . . . so I write of love and friendship . . . from my heart there flows a fount . . . that will tell the world of beauty . . . and the little things that count.

FIND CLOTHING OF YOUTH HELD IN GIRL'S DEATH

LEONARDTOWN, Md. (U) — Blood-stained clothing, believed the property of the airman charged with the rape-murder of a Wave last weekend, has been sent to Baltimore for analysis and blood typing.

Searchers recovered the clothing yesterday which Carl Willis Strickland, 21, admits he threw away early Saturday while driving from Patuxent Naval Air Station to his home in Rocky Mount, N. C. Sheriff Willard Long of St. Marys County said a shirt, pair of trousers and an undershirt, pair of shorts and a pair of socks were found in a wooded area off a road running from St. Marys to Charles County.

The sheriff said the search is continuing for two blankets which Strickland also says he threw away.

Criminally Assailed
The battered body of Miss Irene Marion Conole, 26, was found half-submerged on the beach near Point Lookout Saturday morning. Medical testimony said the cause of death was drowning but also that she had taken a bad beating and had been criminally assaulted.

Strickland, who insists he is innocent, admits he visited taverns with Miss Conole Friday night. But he maintains he left her, and a hitchhiker picked up at her suggestion, on the Chesapeake Bay beach. After he drove away, the airman has told police, he discovered her handbag in the car and returned to the beach. Strickland said he found only two blood-stained blankets, which he picked up, getting blood on his clothing as he did so.

as acceptable by Thomas J. Kennedy, international UMW vice president.

Kennedy telegraphed the miners yesterday that the proposal does "not conflict" with the union contract and urged them to accept it. But Robins said the rank and file miners are "confused" about the implication of the plan.

Called "Strikers"
The miners, in deciding to stay at home despite work schedules posted by the company, found themselves in the status of strikers. The UMW-anthracite operators contract provides that the miners must work when work is scheduled. Any grievances must be thrashed out by the Anthracite Conciliation Board which is bound by the contract to do nothing during an unauthorized strike.

The 4,500 miners who were laid off by the May 3 shutdown have been collecting jobless benefits. Their refusal to work despite posted schedules now threatens to stop those payments.

Under the company plan, 3,500 of the 4,500 men would have returned to work immediately. Of the overall total, 246 would have been laid off permanently.

Today's Talk

LEARN TO FORGET

There is such a thing as remembering too much. Forgetting may become a most valuable art! Gracian, the Spanish philosopher, remarked in one of his wise brief essays as follows: "The things we remember best are those better forgotten."

Memory is a silent friend to us all. Were it not for our happy memories we would be poor indeed. They are the ones to cling to, and to delight in, watering them like a beautiful garden. We always gain by forgetting the unhappy things that come across our path from time to time.

There are so many good and inspiring things to remember. How foolish it is to get these all mixed up with memories that we should forget. To have the mind filled with nothing but happy memories is to give our friends something of the wealth that we own. Something, too, that God can applaud.

Unhappy disputes and arguments, bitterness toward another, personal mistakes that have grieved us and brought sadness to others. Learn to forget them. Offer every reconciliation possible—then forget them. Wouldn't it be wonderful if our memory only recorded the good and happy things of life! I like to think of this mind of mine as a beautiful gallery of memories—or a library of treasured lore.

No one can feel healthy and happy with a horde of unhappy memories within his mind and heart. We can learn to forget them by putting happy memories in their place. How strange it is that people seem to remember things that happened in their youth so much better than when they become old. Was it planned that way so that nothing could erase the happy memories of childhood—if they were happy?

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Friendly Tie-Ups." Protected, 1954, George Matthew Adams Service

DILWORTH NOT CANDIDATE FOR CHAIRMANSHIP

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia Dist. Atty. Richardson Dilworth has taken himself out of consideration to be the new state Democratic party chairman—leaving the party with no outstanding candidates for the job.

Dilworth made known his position in a letter to his close political friend, Mayor Joseph S. Clark Jr. of Philadelphia, yesterday. He wrote Clark that he could not accept the post because he felt he would be criticized for "bringing my office directly into politics and for taking the considerable amount of time away from my office necessary to do a good job."

The present chairman, Maurice J. Spahn Jr. of Oil City and Carnegie, is reported seeking to step down from the post to devote more time to a position he holds with a fraternal organization.

Clark Favored Dilworth

Dilworth's name was advanced for the post by Clark who had called a meeting of city party leaders to consider the chairmanship yesterday. When Dilworth's letter was received, Clark postponed the meeting.

Dilworth did pledge to "do everything within my power" to work for the election of State Senator George M. Leader, party gubernatorial candidate.

The party leaders are scheduled to meet in Harrisburg sometime next week to discuss the situation.

Meanwhile, on the Republican side, there were indications today that the party's "harmony" group of leaders will meet sometime later this week to discuss the state chairmanship. The exact date of the meeting will depend on the availability of Gov. John S. Fine who is returning from a fact-finding tour of South Korea, a mission he undertook at the direction of President Eisenhower.

Mind Is Made Up

The leaders hope to find out then whether State Sen. M. Harvey Taylor is available to continue in the post he has held for 14 years. Taylor said recently he has made up his mind on the situation but won't disclose his decision until the meeting.

If Taylor decides to step aside, all indications at this point are that Revenue Secretary Otto F.

Many Trucks Are Without Licenses

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania Bureau of Motor Vehicles reported that 76 per cent of all truck and commercial license plates were issued by yesterday's deadline for applying for 1954 tags.

The bureau said a total of 473,154 tags were sent out under the new state regulation setting the commercial vehicle tag deadline back two months from that for automobiles.

The change was made by the 1953 General Assembly to relieve pressure on the bureau in handling the millions of applications for both types of plates at the same time.

A bureau spokesman said the total of applications this year is running slightly ahead of normal for the date of the deadline.

board who voted for suspension were Gordon Gray and Thomas A. Morgan. Dr. Evans argued Oppenheimer had been cleared of the charges in 1947.

Gray, former secretary of the Army and now president of the University of North Carolina, joined with Morgan, former president of the Sperry Corp., in "a clear conclusion" that Oppenheimer "is a loyal citizen."

Nevertheless, they said, they could not recommend Oppenheimer's reinstatement because of these four "controlling" considerations:

Many Red Links
Among early reaction to the board's recommendation was a statement issued by the Atomic Scientists of Chicago last night. They called it "unfortunate . . . disturbing . . . frightening."

The 35-page report filed with the commission by Gray and Morgan deals with 24 charges, apparently investigated by the FBI, against the scientist who was in technical charge of creation of America's—and the world's—first atomic bomb.

Twenty-three of the charges alleged such things as this: that Oppenheimer loaned his name to Communist fronts, contributed hundreds of dollars toward Communist causes, admitted belonging to practically "every Communist front on the West Coast," was the husband of a onetime party member and the brother of another, associated with such West Coast Red leaders as Steve Nelson.

Most of the Mexican population lives between the altitudes of 3,000 and 8,000 feet.

GIANTS CRUSH YANKEES 23-5 FOR 4TH WIN

Tonight's Game
Cubs vs. Tigers, 8:15 p.m.

The Giants continued their unbeaten string in the Little League by blasting out a 23-5 victory over the winless Yankees Tuesday evening.

The Giants opened the game with three runs. Zhea and Weikert singled while Kime, with a three-run homer, sent the next pitch into deep right field for a homerun. The Yanks tallied a run in the bottom of the first when Eckert got on by way of an infield error and Joel Riddemose lashed out a triple to right-center.

In the next four innings there was no stopping the determined Giants. They scored eight runs in the second and seven in the fourth. The Yankees scored three tallied in the second for their big inning.

The big gun of the evening was Kime, lanky first baseman for the Giants. He collected a total of five hits in six trips to the plate, including two singles, a double, triple and homerun, driving in eight runs and scoring four times himself.

Of the five Yankees' hits, Riddemose belted two, a triple and single, and drove in two runs.

Knox, although only lasting two innings, is credited with the win while Nichols receives the loss.

WINS TROPHY
THIRD TIME

DEVON, Pa. (AP) — Hillingdon Farms has the Devon Horse Show's Junior Challenge Trophy for keeps today after its entry of Cassilis Viceroy and Cassilis Minuet retired the trophy yesterday before a crowd of 5,000.

It was the third successive victory by the Marlboro, Mass., entry of Graham C. Woodruff. The 58-year old show continued in its third day today.

The Junior Challenge Trophy was put in competition in 1952 by Gerald Donovan and the Woodruff entry was the only one ever to win the competition, listed as Class 26.

Other winners yesterday included Monarch of Mahrapo, a yearling colt owned by Stephen Birch Jr., of Mahrapo Farms, Mahwah, N. J., in the American Hackney Horse Society's Hackney Futurity, Eastern Division.

Dodge Stables entry of Cora's Mite and Little Charm won in Class 48, pair of harness ponies 14.2 and under; Waiting Home, Miss Peggy Augustus won in Class 149, lightweight confirmation hunters; Conowingo's Pride, Miss Harriet S. Harrison, won in Class 85, five-gaited saddle horse, novice; and Mrs. Loula Long Combs drove Constellation and Citation to victory in Class 10, lady's pair of harness horses.

Coal output of Hungary in 1953 was about 21 million tons — three week's U. S. production.

YOUNG GOLFER MASTERS ALL SHOTS AT 19

By F. T. MACFEELEY
GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The golfer teed his ball about four inches from the heavy steel marker that read "No. 7, 530 yards."

Stepping behind the marker, so that it was between him and the ball, he drove 300 yards down the fairway. The club couldn't have missed the tee marker by more than a whisker.

A stunt?
No! said Don Bisplinghoff, 19-year-old University of Florida freshman. He felt it was the best place for his stance.

He did it while playing in the Florida state amateur tournament, where every stroke counts. Bisplinghoff won the title — his second straight — with a 72-hole score of 275, nine under par for the Ocala Country Club.

Long Background
Don has played a lot of golf in his 19 years. He won the National USGA Junior title and his first state amateur title while in high school.

Expert observers say Bisplinghoff has all the shots. He is long and straight off the tee and accurate to the greens. And his wrist-action putting may be the best part of his game.

Denny Champagne, pro at Bisplinghoff's home course, Dubs-dread in Orlando, says: "He is a terrific driver and a great putter, two items necessary for good golf."

In this year's state tourney, Jack Penrose, former Philadelphia and South Jersey champ, set a record with an eight-under-par 63, but he finished second, nine strokes behind Bisplinghoff after 72 holes. Don had two rounds of 66 between a par 71 and a closing 72.

Orders Double
Bisplinghoff is a big eater. During the 1953 state, he ordered a meal in the Duds-dread clubhouse: steak, potatoes and salad.

The waiter brought two steaks, double potatoes and salad. It is a standing order there — everything he orders comes double.

Then he decided on a plate of radishes, but the dish was too small. The waiter came back with a huge bowl of radishes.

Bisplinghoff ate everything. He is a big, strong boy: 6 feet 2 and 210. He is friendly too, with a good memory for faces.

Andy Bracken, golf coach at the University of Florida, sees a wonderful future in Bisplinghoff.

"He is a fine golfer; a good competitor," says Bracken. "He likes the game and will be a great golfer when he gets a more mature mental attitude."

"Showmanship is something he places ahead of golf. He needs a more mature outlook on everything — studies, golf and team play in —"

BRITISH HEAVY TAKES DECISION OVER MATTHEWS

LONDON (AP) — Don Cockell, British heavyweight champion who makes a specialty of defeating Americans, flies to New York in two weeks to scout the Rocky Marciano-Ezzard Charles fight but he hopes it won't be the last he'll see of Rocky in a fight ring.

Most sensible men wouldn't be caught dead in a ring with Marciano.

But after his successes against Roland La Starza in March and against Harry Matthews last night, Cockell is eager to take a shot at the world heavyweight crown. Last night's victory was more impressive than the Briton's split decision over Matthews last August in Seattle.

Had Distinct Edge
Cockell did himself and his Marciano project a lot of good in taking last night's 10-round decision from Matthews.

The onetime Battersea blacksmith was awarded the decision by Referee Jack Hart despite three low blows and a warning for hitting with his elbows. The referee is the only official in Britain.

Practically everyone agreed Cockell won with a distinct but not an overwhelming edge. The Associated Press score card had the Briton winning five rounds, Matthews four and one even.

Uses His Bulk
Midway of the scrap, Cockell, who weighed 210½ to Matthews' 180½, switched his attack from the American's body to his head and scored effectively. But Matthews finished stronger and toward the end Cockell's blows began to stray below the belt line.

Just as he did against La Starza, the British champion used his bulk to perfection. Matthews often was rocked back, not by Cockell's punches, but by the Briton's bull-like rushes.

This was the Badger Mountain that used to come blasting out of the chute like the Devil was poking him with a red hot pitchfork. He could be had, but late in his career he still was tossing 90 per cent of the guys who drew him. "You can name all the world champion broncos ridden from 1934 through 1946 and Badger threw them all," says Bernard, adding:

"All except Nick Knight." Nick had his number. He watched the Badger explode into the arena and the second or third jump rear straight up, then pivot and come slamming down with a great sweep of his head. By that time most riders would be walking away, slapping the dust out of their chaps.

Nick noticed the horse was always ridden with a loose flank strap — the "bucking strap" fastened behind the cinch. Says Tim, "How he figured it out I don't know, but the first time Nick rode Badger he asked me if he could tighten the flank strap. I told him he could. Badger kicked at the moon and Nick stayed with him."

Kept Secret
"Nick rode him three times, but he never told another rider his secret. Once his brother Tommy could have won the Cheyenne show if he had known, but Nick played it square with the Badger."

Bernard and Leo Moomaw ran a string of rodeo stock that made the toponot shows and Badger Mountain was just another new horse in the corral when they bought him in 1934 at Douglas, Wash. The 1,200-pound bronc bucked first at Waterville, Wash., went on to Pendleton and from that time on was the featured horse at Pendleton and Cheyenne.

He was unriddleable at Cheyenne and Port Worth.

There have been a lot of famous buckers, like Steamboat and Mid-night of an earlier day and Hell's Angel and Five Minutes to Midnight of Badger's time. The Badger tossed many men who rode his two rivals.

Game Of Work
Here was a horse that loved his work and made a game of it. You don't teach a horse to buck. Tim will tell you. He must buck because he wants to; if he isn't a natural buck he doesn't stay long in a rodeo string. The fearsome Badger Mountain bucked for 17 years.

But it was always with his ears pointed forward — the equine equivalent of a warrior's smile. You have Tim's word that this blaze-faced brute was "perfectly gentle. In his long career he never injured a rider. Take the saddle off and anyone could handle him."

FAMOUS BRONCO IS LEGEND TO RODEO COWBOYS

By JACK HEWINS
LOOMIS, Wash. (AP) — Badger Mountain was only a horse.

But to Tim Bernard he was the greatest horse that ever held up a saddle — as he was to many other members of the Tribe of Ten Gallon Hats.

Man O'War? What could he do but run?

But as long as there are rodeos, piggin' strings and association saddles Badger Mountain will stay alive in the legends of the buckaroos.

The gallant old blood bay was 29 and three years retired from the dust of the arena when a veterinarian dropped in at Bernard's ranch here. He had to do a bit of flinching on Badger Mountain's teeth. The old campaigner had never liked the chute, but this time he walked in quietly to keep his dental appointment and, without fuss or drama, he died.

Threw Them All
This was the Badger Mountain that used to come blasting out of the chute like the Devil was poking him with a red hot pitchfork. He could be had, but late in his career he still was tossing 90 per cent of the guys who drew him. ## BOB BUHL LOSES 4TH STRAIGHT AS DODGERS GAIN; A'S BEAT BOSOX

By BEN PHLEGAR
Bob Buhl's efforts to duplicate his fine first year with the Milwaukee Braves appear to be stymied by the curse of the winter leagues.

He lost his fourth straight last night, 2-0 to Brooklyn, as the Dodgers continued their 1953 habit of being the only visiting club to win regularly in Milwaukee. The defeat cut the Braves' first-place margin to four percentage points over Brooklyn.

Buhl came out of the minors and the Army last year to post a 13-8 record with the relocated Braves. During the winter he blazed through Caribbean competition to the tune of 14 and 3.

A's Wallop Boston
But with the start of the regular season his magic disappeared. He hasn't been bad, but just not good enough. He has started seven games and has been lifted every time.

The Milwaukee-Brooklyn game was the only action in the National League yesterday as rain brought postponements of St. Louis at Chicago and New York at Pittsburgh.

In the American League Philadelphia walloped Boston 16-6, New York defeated Washington 9-3 and Detroit edged Baltimore 4-3. Baltimore fell to last place.

Billy Cox scored the two Brooklyn runs. He walked in the third inning and moved around on a sacrifice by Russ Meyer and a single by Pee Wee Reese. In the fifth he singled, was again moved to second by Meyer and scored on a single by Junior Gilliam.

Just when the Red Sox thought they were set to go places with a three-game winning streak the lowly Philadelphia Athletics became aroused and battered the Bostonians all over Fenway Park.

Gus Zernial hit his 10th and 11th homers and drove in six runs. Bob Trice joined in the fun with a home run and double in winning his fifth game.

Chased Branca
Bob Grim, the only rookie pitcher to stick with the Yankees this season, held Washington hitless through the last five innings and scored his fifth success. Hank Bauer had a perfect afternoon, collecting three walks, a home run and a single and driving in four runs.

The Orioles staged enough of a rally to get rid of Ralph Branca in the eighth but not enough to keep the former Brooklyn right-hander from winning his third straight game for the Tigers. Detroit collected 10 hits off three Baltimore pitchers.

Jimmy Carter Is Favored Over Riley

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ex-lightweight champion Jimmy Carter of New York rules a 3-1 favorite to take the measure of Chillin' Charley Riley in their scheduled 10-round bout at the St. Louis Arena tonight.

Carter is expected to weigh 135 pounds and Riley, 131.

The former champion is primed for the fight. He came here after five weeks of training in San Francisco for what he thought was a return shot at the lightweight crown with Paddy DeMarco. DeMarco's illness forced a postponement and Carter agreed to meet Riley here instead.

The CBS telecast is scheduled for 10 p.m.

INDUSTRY SEEKS TO END 'CORNER' ON ATOM POWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A powerful surge of industry interest in atom power is spurring a drive in Congress to break the government's monopoly before the legislative session ends.

Witnesses of the Atomic Energy Commission testifying before the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee this week in closed session on proposals to facilitate development of peacetime power from the atom can tell the legislators that: Sixty-five companies are now investing their own dollars, in partnership with AEC, in research and development on reactors to produce electric power.

Atomic Power For Pittsburgh
Private firms are putting five million dollars this year into the still nonexistent industry, on faith that the investment will pay off 5, 10 or 20 years from now.

A single utility, Duquesne Light Co. of Pittsburgh, is contributing another five million dollars toward a government reactor. Duquesne had to beat out nine other companies for this opportunity to gain atomic know-how.

As a result, Pittsburgh should be getting light and power by 1957 from the first commercial-sized, but still experimental, atomic power plant. Duquesne plans to build a generating plant adjoining and to buy atom-generated steam from the government.

church building itself was remodeled and entrances and pulpit moved in 1849. Old church records were lost by fire when they were taken to Chambersburg for safekeeping during the Civil War.

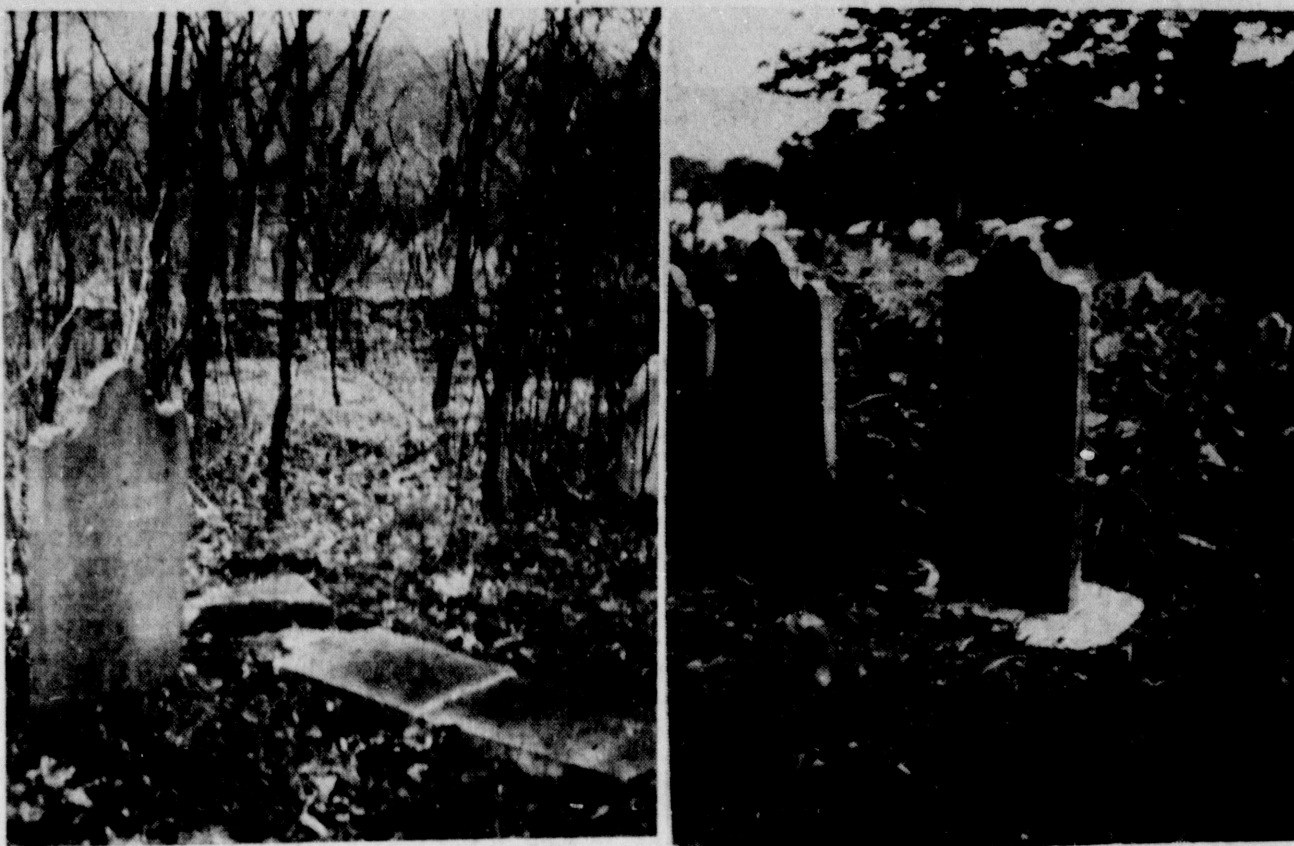

Going on north to the farm owned by the John C. Spicer heirs, the tour visited the only relic in this county of the Studebaker family. There Dr. Frederick Tilberg, society program chairman, recounted briefly Studebaker history connected with Adams County.

From Wagons To Autos
He said John Studebaker and his family came here from York County about 1830 and a son, John, was born here in 1833. Then the family moved on to Ohio and later to South Bend, Indiana, where the wagon manufacturing business was established that grew into the auto industry of today. He said John Studebaker made wagons of the Conestoga type while he lived in this county.

The final stop on the tour was stone-walled Round Hill Cemetery on the west slope of the hill by that name about three miles north of Hampton and nearly a mile west of the Hanover-Carlisle highway.

of J. M. Sheads, former Historical Society president and history teacher at Gettysburg High School, contains many markers placed before 1800 and few in the last half century. The most recent stone found was erected in 1912.

Three veterans of the American Revolution have been located in the cemetery and when the historians arrived, flags, placed for Memorial Day, still marked their graves.

World's Strongest Man

Special interest was taken by group in the stone for Samuel

Hodge, repaired by H. T. Stauffer, an officer of the historical society, and re-set in concrete by J. Frank McIlhenny, Gettysburg, who has ancestors buried at Round Hill.

The stone says Hodge's birthdate is unknown but gives the date of his death as May 17, 1783. This inscription follows: "The strongest man that ever lived on earth; at last did quietly yield up his breath; This fate is sure to you and I; So come, prepare for death before you die."

The society talked over plans for providing for the upkeep of the burial ground, which once saw a small, log, Presbyterian Church standing by it, according to some reports. Miss Ruth McIlhenny told the group there is a trust fund for upkeep of the wall around the graveyard but not for keeping of the cemetery itself.

The historians tramped through the cemetery finding some tombstones with the legends made invisible by age. Others bore these family names: Jones, Weakley, Arnold, Ramsey, Kenyon, Dicks, Richey, Neely, Myers, Rodgers, Tudor, Hill, Williams and Hanes.

They noticed damage by vandals. Some stones have been apparently smashed deliberately. One of the larger stones from a fenced plot near the center of the cemetery has been hauled away.

Says S.S. Changes Violate Old Act

"Some of the recommendations contained in the legislation designed to 'expand and improve' the country's social security system and which are at present being considered by Congress completely violates the original concepts of the Social Security Act," said Clyde H. Markle, president of the Hanover-Gettysburg Association of Life Underwriters, following a meeting here this morning of the board of directors of the local group called to endorse its national organization's policy toward the proposed revisions.

"When the Old Age and Survivors Insurance program came into being it was conceived as a means of providing an economic floor below which none of our retired aged citizens would be permitted to go," Mr. Markle said.

IKE'S PLAN FOR BROADENING OF S.S. APPROVED

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP)—Cleared overwhelmingly by the House, a bill wrapping up most of President Eisenhower's program for broadening the social security system headed today for the Senate where it may be in for some tailoring.

The House passed the bill yesterday by a 355-8 rollcall vote and in just the form recommended by the House Ways and Means Committee.

Sen. Milkin (R-Colo.), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee which now gets to handle the bill, said the House measure appeared to be "generally acceptable."

But some senators reportedly want to provide larger benefits and to widen to $6,000 the annual wage base on which the social security taxes are levied. The base is now $3,600. Under the House bill it would be increased to $4,200.

Benefits For Disabled
There also is said to be Senate sentiment for direct payments to eligible workers who become disabled. These workers now get nothing before retirement.

And strong sentiment is reported for inclusion of physicians, many of whom were understood to have written to their congressmen urging such action despite the American Medical Assn.'s stand against social security coverage for doctors.

In general, the House-passed legislation would:

U. S. Army Surplus Sold For $204,320

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Pennsylvania's Gov. John S. Fine, completing a tour of Korea, offered praise yesterday for the program of the American-Korean Foundation and its integration with U. S. governmental aid to Korea.

"After visiting Korea," Fine said in a cable to Sidney D. Dexter, Pennsylvania state chairman of the foundation's fund-raising campaign "I am extremely proud to be American-Korean Foundation honorary chairman in Pennsylvania."

Fine, one of three governors who made a three-day inspection tour of Korea on behalf of President Eisenhower and now heading for this country, said he was deeply impressed with the urgent needs of the Koreans and the work which the American-Korean Foundation is doing in Korea. Gov. Fine urged all Pennsylvanians to support the organization's campaign.

Isolation would:

1. Blanket about 9,700,000 more persons into the social security system. Some of these would have a choice of coming in or staying out.
2. Increase the annual wage base on which workers and their employers pay social security taxes and on which benefits are calculated.
3. Boost monthly benefit payments for persons already retired and those retiring in the future.
4. Permit retired persons under 75 to earn more money through part-time or full-time employment without losing benefits.

Largest new group that would be brought into the social security system include 3,600,000 owners or operators of farms and 1,300,000 farm hands.

Entitled to coverage for the first time also would be 3,500,000 state and local government employees no under state and municipal retirement systems. They would be given the option of staying out. Policemen and firemen were not included.

Some 150,000 federal employees would be covered for the first time.

Others Made Eligible

Others made eligible for benefits include 400,000 self-employed professionals, about 250,000 domestic workers, 250,000 clergymen and members of religious orders, and 100,000 Americans employed abroad by foreign subsidiaries of U. S. firms.

While raising by $600 the amount of annual earnings on which workers and employers must pay social security taxes, the bill makes no change in the present 2 per cent tax rate. This is scheduled to rise gradually in future years under existing law.

More than 6,300,000 persons now drawing social security benefits would get another $6 a month. Their monthly payments would range from $30 to $98.50. These boosts would become effective two months after the bill becomes law.

Pay $108.50 Per Month

Persons retiring in the future, or their survivors, also would get bigger monthly social security checks, with maximum payments rising from $85 to $108.50 for a single worker and from $127.50 to $162.75 for a retired worker whose wife is past 65. Maximum benefit payable to any one family would be boosted from $168.75 to $200 a month.

Contract Expires; Continue Talks

NEW YORK (AP)—A contract between the General Electric Co. and the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) expired last midnight, but contract talks will continue every day this week, a union spokesman says.

Continuance of the talks was announced yesterday.

Union demands include a "substantial" wage increase, a guaranteed annual wage plan and other benefits for about 78,000 employees the IUE represents in 60 of the company's plants in the nation. The Independent Electrical Workers Union (IUE) also represent GE employees. Its contract has not expired.

The company has said it experimented with a guaranteed annual wage and it didn't work.

The company has offered wage increases of from four to a little more than five cents an hour, plus holiday and vacation improvements, but the union has rejected the offer as inadequate.

The IUE says present wages average $1.88 an hour.

Retired persons up to the age of 75 also would get a better break on outside earnings.

They now lose social security benefits for any month in which they earn $75 or more. The proposed changes in the law would let such persons earn up to $1,000 a year. Above that sum, a person would lose benefits for any month in which he earned more than $60.

There is no limit on earnings allowed those above 75.

House Probe Of Tax-Exempt Foundations Is "Hot Potato"

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — The House investigation of tax-exempt foundations isn't likely to take the television play away from the Senate hearings on the McCarthy-Army row but it's a hot potato all by itself.

Prime mover in this investigation is Rep. B. Carroll Reece (R-Tenn.), who was Southern manager for the late Sen. Robert A. Taft's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination in 1952. One of the Democrats on Reece's committee, Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Ohio, was against this investigation before it started and has been critical ever since.

Although Reece said in a couple of speeches in 1953 that the majority of foundations — the biggest are Ford and Rockefeller — are honestly run, he said he is suspicious of some of them.

Reece is chairman of the "nubbin" of Reece's desire for the investigation, said Rep. Jacob Javits (R-Lib-NY). Last July 27 Reece pleaded with the House to set up a special committee to look into foundations. It did.

Reece was made chairman. His committee has three Republicans and two Democrats. Between last July and mid-May, when public hearings started, Reece's staff gathered material for the inquiry.

In his July speech Reece cocked a critical eye on the Ford Foundation, set up by the heirs of Henry Ford. He was especially incensed that it had granted 15 million dollars for a study of civil liberties and the way congressional committees conduct investigations.

Doesn't Like Hutchins
This money was to be handled by an organization called the Fund for the Republic. A few days after Reece attacked the fund, Rep. Clifford P. Case (R-NJ) resigned from Congress to be its president.

Recently Case resigned from the fund to run for the Senate in New Jersey. He is being succeeded by Robert M. Hutchins, former chancellor of the University of Chicago. Hutchins several years ago became associate director of the Ford Foundation.

Reece, apparently, doesn't like Hutchins any more than he likes the Fund for the Republic. Under Hutchins, Reece said, the University of Chicago set a record — five times — for being investigated for "immoral or subversive activities."

Would Probe McCarthy Backer
Hays came to the defense of the Ford Foundation for granting money for study of civil liberties and congressional investigations. He said he thought any individual or foundation had a right to make such a study.

Norman Dodd, the Reece committee's research director, said on May 11 special attention should be paid to the Ford Foundation in this inquiry.

Hays demanded a probe of Facts Forum Foundation, created by H. L. Hunt, wealthy Texas oil man and supporter of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). Facts Forum supports a series of radio and TV discussion programs which Hunt says he promotes as impartial debater to arouse public interest in current problems. Critics have attacked them as a political propaganda machine giving major weight to conservatism and isolationism.

For the convenience of those who cannot attend the Mass, Holy Communion will be distributed at the church at 6 a.m.

First Saturday Mass honoring Our Lady of Fatima is at 7:30 June 5.

The total, reported to Congress in testimony released today, superseded the Civil Service Commission's report last March that the department had uncovered 78 security risks.

The department also told a House Appropriations subcommittee that, in one 78-case category, about 40 per cent of those eliminated as security risks had been hired under the Eisenhower administration. The remainder, it said, were holdovers from Democratic administrations.

No breakdown was provided, in this case, between suspected subversives and those removed for other causes. A security risk may be a person who drinks or gossips too much or is found to be unstable mentally.

100 NEW AUTOS 3 WAREHOUSES, LOST IN BLAZE

EDGEWATER, N. J. (AP)—A million dollar fire rampaged through a two-block area of this industrial community's waterfront yesterday, wrecking three warehouses, three old docks and almost 100 new cars.

Some 125 firemen were injured or overcome by the heavy smoke in fighting the spectacular blaze. About 30 of the firemen were taken to hospitals for treatment.

The fire started at 4:30 p.m., apparently in a warehouse in which rubber was stored by the Ford Motor Co. Firemen battled the racing flames for three hours before they were put under control.

A Ford spokesman said 96 to 100 new Lincoln and Mercury automobiles, awaiting export, were destroyed.

Also wrecked were two empty warehouses, three old raw sugar docks and Edgewater's civil defense headquarters on the municipal dock.

Before it was put under control, the fire threatened the Borough Hall and other buildings in the center of town. At one point, about 26 acres were ablaze. Flying sparks set fire to two houses several blocks away.

Fire units from eight neighboring municipalities and the Port of New York Authority pitched in to help the hard-pressed Edgewater companies.

Flames and smoke pouring from the scene, across the Hudson River from New York City, were visible for miles around. The intense heat hampered firemen for some time.

Fire Chief George Lasher made the overall damage estimate of about one million dollars. The Ford spokesman estimated damage to the cars at $250,000.

James Earley, agent for Dwight Hensley, Inc., of New York, said it would cost two million dollars to replace the destroyed buildings and docks.

Cause of the fire was not determined.

Steelton Plant Resumes Operation

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Steelton plant of the Bethlehem Steel Co. near here today was in the process of a gradual resumption to full scale operations.

Approximately 1,600 employees of the plant were idled 10 weeks ago when several sections of the plant were shut down for repairs and renovations.

Walter B. Lang, general manager of the plant, said the company expects to have its full force of 5,500 employees on duty by June 14.

The workers in the sections shut down took their vacations during the 10 week period. The gradual return to work began yesterday.

VETERANS DAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—From now on, Nov. 11 will be celebrated as Veterans Day, instead of Armistice Day.

President Eisenhower signed a bill yesterday changing the name of the holiday to honor American service veterans of all wars.

COURT VOIDS CONVICTION

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court has thrown out the murder conviction of a New York man because it found he confessed after his "ability to resist interrogation was broken to almost trance-like submission" by a psychiatrist working with the police.

Voting 5-3, the court yesterday overturned the second conviction of Camilo W. Leyra, 54, for the hammer slaying of his 75-year-old father Camilo, four years ago. The New York Court of Appeals reversed his first conviction. He drew the death penalty in both trials on first degree murder charges. Leyra now may be tried a third time. He also has been convicted of second degree murder for the slaying of his 80-year-old mother. Both were killed in their Brooklyn apartment at the climax of a quarrel over business matters. Leyra has appealed this conviction, too.

The high court also decided yesterday that states may levy property taxes on equipment used by interstate airlines making regular stops at fields within their borders.

Voting 7-2, the high tribunal affirmed Nebraska's right to tax equipment of Braniff Airways, which makes 18 stops daily in that state.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Final argument will be heard by the Public Utility Commission at Harrisburg on July 13 on the application of the Auch Inter-Borough Transit Co.

Conshohocken, to extend its Norristown bus route four miles along Montgomery Ave. to Ardmore.

The proposal would extend the line to Ardmore along Montgomery Ave. east from the present terminus at Matsonford Rd. and Montgomery Ave. in Lower Merion Twp. The proposal is opposed by a number of Philadelphia "Main Line" residents who contended at public hearings that the Auch buses would increase traffic hazards along the proposed extension.

Franklinton Fire House Dedicated

The Franklinton and Community Fire Company dedicated its new fire house and community building with ceremonies starting at 4 p.m. Saturday.

Raymond Schar, who was in charge, introduced Cameron Ralston, lecturer and traveler, who in turn presented George M. Leader, state senator and Democratic gubernatorial nominee. Following the program, the Ladies Auxiliary served chicken corn soup. A festival and concert by the Dillsburg Citizens Band ended the program.

In 1940 Franklinton and community was without fire protection of any kind, but since that time, a modern fire engine has been purchased and last year ground was broken for the present modern structure, estimated to have cost $40,000. A 36-page booklet, supported by numerous advertisers, contains much historical information and current data concerning the Franklinton and Community Fire Company.

High Winds And Heavy Rains Damage Several Communities

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Communities in western and central Pennsylvania today removed debris left in the wake of high winds and heavy rains that caused damage estimated in the thousands of dollars.

The storm swept across the rolling hill country and mountains last night, snapping utility lines, felling trees and scattering limbs and branches across streets and highways. Three persons were reported hurt, none seriously.

Two severe storms, described by state police as tornadoes, struck in Butler and Mercer Counties, splintering roofs and wrecking homes.

The violent storm followed warnings issued by the U. S. Weather Bureau in Pittsburgh and Harrisburg.

Raises Farm Home

One of the tornadoes struck the eight-room farm home of F. L. Vincent near Grove City, yanking the frame building 12 feet off its foundation. Mrs. Vincent and her son, Cecil, suffered bruises. They were thrown across the dining room floor.

The other tornado struck in Oakland Twp., northeast of Butler, damaging two oil derricks, ripping roofs off three homes, demolishing a barn and damaging the parish house and garage of the North Oakland church. Power poles and trees fell across sections of Rt. 68, blocking traffic for awhile.

Two Blair County towns, Altoona and Hollidaysburg, were hard hit by the storm. In Hollidaysburg, falling trees smashed two autos but did not injure the occupants—high school football coach Mike Durbin and Peggy Patterson.

Affects Power Lines

The Pennsylvania Electric Co. reported three of its 45,000 volt power lines were put out of order for a short time. Bell Telephone said its service was disrupted between Altoona, Hollidaysburg and Tyrone.

Herman Duffy, a painter, suffered cuts when windows burst under pressure of high wind and hurled glass into the home where he was working.

Pittsburgh suburbs also suffered heavy damage from the storm. North Braddock, Swissvale, Forest Hills and McKeesport bore the brunt of it.

Late last night the storm moved eastward. High winds and rains swept the Harrisburg area, toppling some television and radio aerials.

WANTS LABOR ON BANK BOARD

WASHINGTON (AP) — John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers (Ind.), says he wants a labor representative on the board of governors of the Federal Reserve System, the nation's central bank.

Lewis, who is reported to be in control of large banking interests in the capital, suggested in a letter he personally delivered to Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey yesterday that "qualified representatives of the agricultural and labor population" be put on the seven-member reserve board.

Humphrey, an old acquaintance of Lewis, a few hours later replied in a letter headed "Dear John" and saying "we appreciate very much your suggestion."

There are two posts to be filled on the reserve board and there has been no official indication as to when or how the appointments would be made. Board Chairman William McChesney Martin Jr. has advocated reducing the board to a five-man panel. However, it was authoritatively learned that the Eisenhower administration has overruled Martin and has decided to make the two appointments.
